European Correspondence.

PARIS, Dec. 9 1868.

The following is the text of the Explosive Bullet Treaty just signed at St. Petersburg, by the representatives of Bavaria, Belgium, Denmark, England, France, Greece, Holland, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and Wurtemberg:

"Considering that the progress of civilization ought to result in diminishing as much as possible the sufferings inseparable from war; that the only legitimate object pursued in war is to weaken the force of the enemy; that to obtain this it suffices to place as many men as possible hors de combat; that to make use of expedients that shall unnecessarily enlarge the wounds of the men placed hors de combat, or entail inevitable death, is incompatible with the before mentioned object; that to make use of such expedients would moreover, be contrary to the teachings of humanity.

"The undersigned in virtue of the instructions given them by their Governments, are authorized to declare as follows:

"I. The contracting parties engage, in the event of war between any of them, to abstain from the use of missiles of any description possessing explosive power, or filled with explosive or inflammable material, weighing less than four hundred grammes. This restriction to apply to the army and navy alike.

"II. They likewise invite all those States not represented at the deliberations of the Military Commission assembled at St. Petersburg, to subscribe to this mutual engagement.

"III. In the event of war this engagement is to be observed towards the contracting powers, and those that may subsequently subscribe to it. It need not be observed towards any who have not signed their assent to the above stipulations.

"IV. The above engagement likewise ceases to be valid if a State that has not signed it takes part in a war between parties that have signed it.

"V. Whenever the progress of science results in any new definite proposals being made for improving the equipment of the troops, the contracting parties, as well as those who have subsequently joined this engagement, will assemble to maintain the principles laid down to reconcile the requirements of war with the demands of humanity."

The reasons alleged for this agreement being obviously unsound, some unavowed motive must have occasioned its conclusion. Explosive balls by no means necessarily result in inflicting large wounds than solid balls, now is there any thing in them to render death a more absolute certainty in the one case than in the other. In the first instance it is evident that the fragments of an explosive rifle bullet must be smaller than those of the grenades so freely used by every army in the world. And secondly, if the explosive material in the rifle bullets be only meant to explode, not to burn—as, indeed, it is in the grenades—how can wounds inflicted be more dangerous than lead and propelling force can make them? It is therefore certain that a more self-interested motive than the one professed occasioned the proposals to be made by one and to be accepted by some other powers. As to the majority, they have probably joined from mistaken ideas of the requirements of humanity. It is not in the battle but in the camp where death reaps its largest harvest; everything, therefore, that shortens war tends to the preservation of life. It may, by the way, eventually become of some political consequence, that of the States which may possibly be participants in a European war, Baden, Luxemburg, Romania, Servia, Montenegro, and the United States have not joined.

The emotion caused by the apprehension of a rupture between Turkey and Greece, in consequence of the conduct of Greece in the affairs of Crete, is subsiding. Assurances are given here that the danger is, at least for the moment averted, owing to the friendly interposition of the Ambassadors of the Great Powers who are parties to the Treaty of Paris. The Porte, provoked by the persistent hostility of the Athens Government, signified that it would wait only to the 15th inst., to obtain satisfaction, but at the request of the Ambassadors a further delay (to the 17th) was accorded.

M. Olzog, representing the Madrid Provisional Government in Paris; has been received by the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Council of State will meet tomorrow in a general sitting to consider the estimates and expenses of the Budget. It is supposed that the measure will be presented in the Chamber of Deputies immediately after the opening of the Session.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—The Washington National Monument Society has addressed an appeal to the pastors of the religious congregations of the United States, asking them to cause collections to be taken up in their respective churches on the Sunday immediately preceding the 22nd of February next, the amounts to be remitted to the Treasurer of the Society, in order that work on the monument may be resumed. The appeal is signed by Andrew Johnson, President ex officio; S. N. Bowen, 1st Vice-President; Ulysses S. Grant, 2nd Vice-President; W. W. Corcoran, 3rd Vice-President; J. B. H. Smith, Treasurer; John Carroll, Brevet-Secretary.

CAPTURE OF A CHINESE BANDIT.—A noted Chinese bandit and black-mauler, Sinsian-man, has been captured in Shanghai. He will be punished by being put into a box of such shape that he can neither lie down, sit, nor stand; his head and hands will protrude, and he will be left exposed to sun, wind, and rain, until he dies of exhaustion or starvation.

CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE BUSTEED.—The Sun says that the "Hon. Richard Busteed, formerly of this city, Mr. Lincoln's appointee to the office of U. S. District Judge for the District of Alabama, is to be examined as to alleged crimes and misdemeanors, before an investigating committee of the Senate, on the first Thursday of next January. He is charged by several respectable lawyers in Mobile with the most flagrant corruption; such as appointing his own domestic servant to be clerk of his court, and pocketing the bulk of the fees himself; selling his decisions to the highest bidder; and generally with making money in every dishonest way possible. The Judge professes to be able to completely refute these accusations, and to show that they originate in sheer rebel spite and hatred. For the ex. di. of this city, we fervently hope that he may succeed. It is bad enough for us to have corrupt Judges here, without inflicting the same upon other parts of the country."

DEATH OF GOV. MOREHEAD.—Ex-Gov. Charles S. Morehead, of Kentucky, died suddenly on the morning of the 23d inst., of heart disease. He was born in Kentucky in 1802. In early life he commenced the practice of law but soon entered upon a political career. He was elected to the legislature in 1828. In 1832 he was appointed Attorney General of Kentucky, which office he held for five years. In 1838 he again went to the Legislature, and continued a member of that body till 1844, being three times elected Speaker. He represented his State in Congress from 1847 to 1851. In 1853 he was once more elected to the Legislature, and in 1855 he was chosen Governor of the Commonwealth. He was one of the delegates to the Peace Convention, held in Washington in 1861. Because of his endeavors to bring about the secession of Kentucky, and his violent advocacy of the Rebel cause, the Government found it necessary to arrest him; accordingly, on the 19th of September, 1861, he was arrested at his residence, near Louisville, and taken to Fort Lafayette, where he was long confined. Gov. Morehead was an old Whig, a warm supporter of Henry Clay. Throughout the war he was a bitter rebel.

Scenes in an Old Court House.

The first Court House in Bennington was consumed by fire in 1800. At the next term of the Supreme Court, a bench for the Judges and a table for the Lawyers were temporarily provided in the ball room of a tavern. The bench and table were tacked together, and were rather shaky. The learned and facetious Judge Royal Tyler, presided. One of the Assistant Judges was the Hon. Jonathan Robinson, afterwards a U. S. Senator. Judge Robinson had an inveterate habit of trotting in Court. Judge Tyler was very much annoyed by the jar occasioned by the trotting, but seemed to ignore the cause. With a fine, high-keyed, silvery voice, he sang out:

"Mr. Sheriff, there is such a jarring and shaking here that it is impossible to do business."

"At this moment the Judge happened to spy Counsellor H. pacing the floor of the room. H. was large, dignified, hair powdered, and finely dressed."

"Brother H.," said Judge T., "would you be willing to move that great ponderous body of yours with a little less momentum? You hinder the business of the Court."

H. looked daggers at Judge T., but was so choked with indignation that words were denied him. Daniel Chipman, of Middlebury, was in Court, and sitting with his elbow on the shaky table, his hand supporting his chin, vigorously chewing tobacco, a habit which he had. Lawyer Sperry, a wiry wag of a fellow, now thought it was his turn to speak. Bobbing up hastily he said to Judge T.:

"Your honor, I have it. The cause of this jarring—pointing to Chipman—is my brother Dan's jaws."

The explosion which followed lasted several minutes, Judges and Bar joining in the hilarity, Chipman vainly attempting to deny the soft impeachment, but as often as he attempted to speak, Judge T. would stop him by saying the Court forgive him the offense!

At another day, the same term, there was a spectator in Court by the name of Walbridge, who could jerk his thumb suddenly from his mouth and make a report almost exactly like the sound of a firing pistol. He could take on board and accommodate a large quantity of rum and water, and sometimes played off his pranks in wrong places. While Walbridge was looking on, there was arraigned in Court an old Negro, for some petty offence. With the Negro was his father, whose wool was as white as snow, and to all appearance headed back at least 100 years. The Court decided to take nominal bail, and Judge Tyler thus addressed the elder Negro:

"You good old African, are you willing to become bail in the sum of $100 for the appearance at next Court, of your poor, unfortunate son?"

The old Negro, showing prominently the white part of two large eyes, placed himself in a respectful attitude, with his face where the top of his head should have been, and answered "Yes sah!"

Walbridge, now supposing the climax was reached, gave a pop which startled every man in the house! Judge Tyler instantly screamed:

"Mr. Sheriff! Mr. Sheriff! Some malicious wretch has had the hardihood to fire in this Court! Have him arrested!"

The Sheriff moved forward, Walbridge ran, and with a two jumps he cleared the Court room stairs. When the Sheriff next got his eyes upon him, he was mounted on his horse, plying the whip, the horse on the run. He turned the old whipping-post corner, and was soon out of sight.—Bristolboro Record.

A Singular Will.

Thomas C. Moore, a wealthy bachelor, formerly of Brooklyn, but recently of New Jersey, died recently. In his will he provided that for several relatives, but a great portion of his estate seems to have been devised for purposes of charity and religious benevolence. One bequest is peculiar. The sum of $21,000 is set apart as a fund for the relief of destitute widows and children of Southern soldiers who died or were killed in the late war, in the eastern part of South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia. Another sum is set aside for the rebuilding or repairing of churches, without regard to sect or denomination, injured by the late war, within the districts of the States named. Upward of $10,000 is left to the various churches and benevolent societies, including $1,000 to the American Sea-Union's Friendly Society, $5,000 to Presbyterian Missions, $2,000 to the American Home Missionary Society, and $2,000 to Reformed Dutch Missions. After the death of his sister certain real estate is to be sold and the following legacies paid out of the proceeds: American Home Missionary Society, $10,000; American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, $10,000; American Tract Society, $10,000; and to the American Bible Society the remainder and residue of all such moneys. He leaves $3,000 to be invested for the benefit of Electa P. Moore, and at her death the principal to be divided between the American Bible and the American Tract Societies. The residuary, either through being overlooked or from non-acceptance of legacies, or whatever other cause, goes to the American Bible Society.

Personal.

John Lord, LL.D., is delivering twenty-five lectures on famous men and women.

The Emperor of China is 14 years of age, and his affianced bride 11.

An invitation, tendering a complimentary dinner to Samuel Bowles, Esq., of the Springfield Republican, has received the signatures of Gov. Bullock and a large number of editors and literary gentlemen of Boston.

Prof. Greene is delivering a course of twelve lectures on the American Revolution, including his grandfather, at the Boston Lowell Institute.

The average age of the new British Cabinet is fifty years and four months. The oldest member is Lord Clarendon, Foreign Secretary, 68; and the youngest the Marquis of Hartington, 35 years old. Mr Gladstone stands third on the list.

It is announced from Paris that Queen Isabella has purchased, for $72,000, a magnificent residence on the Boulevard du Roi de Rome, and paid a forfeit of £2,400, to be paid off the purchase of the two houses she had previously taken in Champs Elysees.

Ex-president Roberts, of Liberia has settled down in Washington and bought a house.

It is said that Gen. Grant will spend New Year's in Philadelphia.

Mr. B. P. Cilley, of Manchester, N. H., has a likeness of his grandfather, Gen. Enoch Poor, drawn by Koseusco, in a church at Trenton, during service, on the fly-leaf of a hymn book. It possesses artistic merit, as well as historic interest.

FULTON MARKET.—Just received, a nice lot Dried Beef, Sugar Cured Hams, Bologna Sausage, Sweet Potatoes, Tomatoes, Pears, Peaches, Water Melons and Musk Melons. dtf-94.

Within the whole range of tonic and alternative medicines known, none is entitled to more consideration than the Peruvian Syrup. In all cases of feeble and debilitated constitution it is the very remedy needed. The most positive proof of this can be adduced.

Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer is a perfect and miraculous article—Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or pomatum. Softens trash, dry and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—*Savannah (Ga.) SPECIAL NOTICES.

To Physicians.

New York, August 15th, 1867.
Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The compound parts are BUCHU, Lassa Leaf, CUBEBES, JUNEBER BERRIES.

MOORE'S PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a tincture. Cubebes extracted by displacement with liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation is perfectly pure; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a tincture, as made in Pharmacopoeia, nor it is a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In such cases, the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hope that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation.

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD.

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 504 Broadway, New York.

I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold, who occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WRIGHTMAN,

HELMOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indigestion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, which will be found Indigestion to Excretion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil, in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Catarrhes or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Scirrhus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, impudence, or delicate or delicate life.

HELMOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU as IMPROVED ROSE WATER will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely supplanting the use of all other remedies, Copavia and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure it, and use it, and you will be enabled to perform your duties, and to live. The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a fluid, and HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

IRON in the BLOOD.

The necessity of a due proportion of iron in the blood is well known to all medical men; when it becomes reduced from any cause whatever, the whole system suffers, the weakest part being first attacked, and a feeling of languor, lassitude and "all goneness" pervades the system. Stimulants only afford temporary relief, and have the same effect as giving a tired horse the whip instead of oats. The true remedy is to supply the blood with the necessary quantity of iron. This can be done by using the

a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron which is so prepared that it assimilates at once with the blood, giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

To take medicine to cure diseases occasioned by a deficiency of IRON IN THE BLOOD, without restoring it to the system, is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.

A divine says: "I have been using the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past; it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle."

Pamphlets containing certificates of cures, and recommendations from some of our most eminent physicians, cerymams and others, will be sent free to any address.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.
